Instructional Plan

Course Content Description: Provide a brief overview of the course content, including key topics and themes covered throughout the course.

Students will learn about plot by identifying and explaining its elements—exposition, rising action, climax, falling action, and resolution—using a short, engaging text. Through teacher modeling and guided discussion, they will analyze how key events build the story and connect to the theme. Students will synthesize information by examining how plot events, character actions, and details work together to reveal the author's message. They will practice using text evidence to support their thinking, identify the genre, and explain how the genre influences the story's structure. Students will conclude by analyzing the author's purpose and reflecting on how plot development helps communicate the overall theme.
