

Course: 7th Grade Texas History

Instructor: Lakin Hise

Instructional Plan

Course Content Description: Provide a brief overview of the course content, including key topics and themes covered throughout the course.

Throughout the first semester, students learned about the start of Texas and the events leading up to economic, political, and social transformations of Texas. This semester, students will begin by studying the era of cotton, cattle and railroads, analyzing how agriculture, ranching, and transportation shaped Texas economy and growth. The curriculum then moves into the Age of Oil where students explore how oil discoveries transformed Texas into an economic and industrial powerhouse and influenced urbanization. Students will also examine Texas during the Great Depression, Texas involvement in WWII and the Civil Rights movement and Conservatism.
